Hello!

I'm Amanda, and I am NOT your basic content creator... I'm a Gen X, tattooed, creative driven by a deep love of visual storytelling. I create high-end photography, cinematic video, and aerial drone media designed to showcase spaces in their best light and tell a compelling, intentional story that feels both elevated and authentic.

I'm also a mom of nine, with a built-in media team. My kids, ranging from 28 down to 8, sometimes travel with me on shoots, especially for model-led or family-centered lifestyle content. This gives my work an authentic, lived-in feel that resonates with real guests, real buyers, and real families.

From lifestyle content to branded visuals, my work is designed to help properties stand out, captivate viewers, and convert interest into bookings and purchases. Every project is approached with intention, creativity, and a commitment to delivering a luxury experience from start to finish.

I'm not an influencer-first creator — I'm a photographer and media producer. My collaborations focus on delivering premium content you can use across your brand channels, not just mine. My follower count does not limit the quality or impact of the media I create. Although this specific account is new, I manage multiple established personal and business channels that cater to travel, lifestyle, photography, and STR audiences. Combined, these platforms provide a broader content presence and additional exposure options beyond this one page.

Testimonials:

“The amount of content we received was unbelievable—interiors, exteriors, aerials, detail shots, video clips, everything. The full package exceeded our expectations.”

- RYAN

“The photos of our venue are gorgeous! Thank you so much for helping capture the magic of the Blanton House!”

- MADISON

“Amanda was a joy to work with—professional, thoughtful, and consistently reliable. She brought a great attitude and delivered quality work with minimal direction. I’d happily work with her again and highly recommend!”
